A Song For School

Some boys, when they come into school,

(And some girls, too)

I grieve to be obliged to say That this is what they do:

They wiggle
And jiggle
They hang their heads
And giggle;
They twitter
And titter;
They bounce and flounce
And flitter.

Whatever thoughts their minds may fill,

They've no idea of keeping still.

Some boys, when they take up their books,

(And some girls, too)

I weep to be obliged to say That this is what they do:

They batter them,
They tatter them;
They crumple, rumple,
Scatter them;
They scrawl them,
And maul them.
They snatch and pull
And haul them.

It makes me very sad to state A school book's is a wretched fate.

Some boys, when they stand up in class,

(And some girls, too)

Imagination will not pass To see the things they do!

They shuffle
And scuffle;
They sneeze and wheeze
And snuffle;
They splutter
And mutter
And stut-tut-tut-
Tut-tutter;
They fumble
And stumble;
They grin and gasp
And grumble.

Oh, if they knew how they appear,

They'd try to mend their ways that's clear! —Exchange

Thanksgiving

The following is by B. O. Williams, Assistant State Agent Boys' Club Work.

Since this is the November issue of The Carolina Club Boy, and since Thanksgiving Day comes in this month, it is fitting that we say a few words in this issue about this great day. What is Thanksgiving Day? It is a day set aside for the giving of thanks as an expression of our love for the many blessings which we have received.

If we turn our eyes backward only four years, we see the United States and the rest of the world in a great war. We should be thankful for the eleventh of November, 1918, the day known as Armistice Day. You boys well remember how you felt when you learned that the Armistice had been signed.

We should be thankful for life, health and happiness. For the comforts and conveniences which are ours to enjoy, we should be thankful. As club boys we ought to be thankful for the open life of the farm, for sunshine and rain that makes our crops grow, and for food and raiment, our mouth to speak with, our hands to feel with and to do things with, and the other agencies which make life rich and happy, we should be doubly thankful. In fact, there are so many things for which we should be thankful, that we can but turn our minds and our hearts to Him who made us and to Him who hath power to take us, and say: Father, we thank Thee for love and tender mercies. Grant us blessings from above and teach us to do the right things at all times."

And, after we have done that, we will, indeed, be happier club boys, and can help others to be happy.

Do not forget Thanksgiving Day, and do not forget the unfortunate and needy, who might need help from your hands and who have not the things to be thankful for that you might have.

Only Resting

He yelled at the top of his voice for two hours and then stopped.

"Well," said his mother, "are you going to be good? Have you finished crying?"

"No," said Tommy, "I have not finished; I'm only resting."

Love or Fear

"Little maiden, tripping by. Tarry, pray, and tell me why, You more joyous seem than I?" Lady, yes, I'll tell you why Happy every day am I, God is watching from on high. Don't we all to Him belong? He can never do a wrong; So I sing my little song. "Happy little maiden free, Teaching lessons sweet to me, You but feel a Father's love, While I fear a God above."

Willie Stands Corrected

Teacher: "Willie, did you talk in school today without permission?"

Willie: "Just wunst."
Teacher: "Johannie, should Willie have said 'wunst'?"
Johannie: "No'm. He should have said 'twist.'"

Jean of Arc

Teacher: "Tommy, who was Jean of Arc?"

Tommy (who is considered great at guessing): "Noah's wife."
